Serial Nos. 1+2

PART B FOR February 1905

SUBJECT.

Transfer to non malnad stations of officers of the judicial deptt after three years continuous services in the malnad.

FILE No. 202 of 1904-05.

Transfer to non-malnad stations of officers of the Judicial Department, serving in the malnad.

1 From the Registrar of the Chief Court, dated 4th February 1905.
Forwards the opinion of the Judges of the Chief Court, that Judicial officers may, after three years' continuous service in the malnad, be transferred to non-malnad stations.

2 To the same No. J. 2261, dated 18th February 1905.
Agrees in the opinion of the Judges of the Chief Court and directs that effect may, as a rule, be given thereto, and that Mr. Venkatavaradaniyengar's case be brought up for disposal when he shall have completed three years' continuous service at Shimoga.

Transfer to non-malnad stations of officers of the Judl Deptt after 3 years' continuous service in the malnad
File No 202 for 05.

N o t e.

The climate of Shimoga is an enervating one. In public interests as well as in private, occasional transfers of the officers located thereat is, in my humble opinion, desirable. Such transfers are more easily effected in the Revenue and kindred Departments than in the Judicial. There are only three District Judges in the State, their location being Bangalore, Mysore and Shimoga. A triennial rotation in their case was at one time comtemplated by Government, but no orders seems ~~since~~ to have been passed directing it. I beg to submit this note to the Dewan with reference to the conversation I had with him at the last Council Meeting when the question of the discontinuance of certain Malnad Allowances was discussed. In his certificate in regard to Mr. Venkatavaradaniengar's state of health, the District Medical and Sanitary Officer, Shimoga, observes inter alia:-

" It is now found that his liver has grown
" sluggish, being enlarged to something like
" ½ inch below the margin of the ribs in the
" mamary line, due to a mild attack of
" Hepatitis. I am afraid that further
" continued stay at Shimoga with this state
" of the liver may lead to serious conse-
" quences. It is therefore advisable that
" he should arrange for a change to a more
" salubrious climate as early as practicable
" giving himself occasionally the benefit of
" a change to the sea coast either at Madras

" or at Pondicherry ....."

2. 2 If Mr. Venkatavaradaniengar has already been three years at Shimoga as District Judge, or as soon as he shall have done so, I beg to recommend that he be given a change.

3 3 I believe the Dewan is disposed to give the question of rotation his favorable consideration.

4 (452) Let me have a statement of the services of the other two District Judges in the Mulnad Stations. I shall be glad also to be favoured with Col Bangley's opinion regarding Venkata-Varadaiengar's health prospects. If the Judges of the Civil Court are disposed hereafter to recommend rotation of this sort, may be sent unofficially to them. My idea is that a Judge serving in a Mulnad Station will be relieved after 3 years. Thus a District Judge will have the Mulnad turn once in six

Mr Sreedala Varadamenon an Assistant Sessions Judge, Chemnad has served 2 yrs 4½ months in Chemnad. He tells me he had over 20 adults of malaria there, & from the prolongation of illness (he had 19 injections) he became somewhat deaf. His lungs is perfectly healthful, but he has not yet recovered strength or vigour & has left on leave to breathe native air & become well & return to a non-malarious station.
